(Cyphomandra abutiloides)

DWARF TAMARILLO

South American native. Miniature version of the regular Tamarillo, but this one ripens smaller golden fruit in clusters. May need greenhouse cultivation in the north. In frost-free conditions, it eventually grows into a small tree.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS

Start transplants indoors 8-12 weeks before last frost, barely covering. Hold at warm temps, 70-85F; do not allow soil to dry out. Transplant or direct-sow after last frost.
